Golden Age Relationships

Part I

Relationships in your new Golden Age will reunite the heart of every soul with its encoded capacity to live in unconditional Love ~ for it is only in the living of this Love that you will be brought into conscious union with all of life within the One Heart of the Infinite. The force of this Love is now sending its power as great spirals of Light into the deepest recesses of your heart to awaken you within the timeless realms of your Presence.

~ Masters Saint Germain and Lady Portia

Your Presence is living in Oneness because love is the essence of its very being. This love is not limited to a particular set of circumstances nor is it confined to a special person or a place. It has no attachments or desires because it is satisfied, whole and complete in and of itself. To experience the depths of this kind of love, the mind must be liberated from its ideas around ownership and all the other beliefs that have continued to paint pictures that would confine the power of love. No one can actually bring you love nor take it away. Someone can stimulate that place in you that remembers, yet the love that humanity has been so desperately seeking is the natural inheritance of every soul. It is imbued within every fiber and facet of the physical and multidimensional expressions of your soul.

It is the fear of losing this love and of not being able to confine it for one's own needs and pleasures that has driven your world into separation. The major attribute of the Presence, which is love, is not something you need to seek or strive to become, yet rather something to remember yourself as being. If you confine love to your own specifications or find yourself looking for it outside of your own heart, then you are supporting the age-old myth of separation.

Living as the Presence, which is the foundation of all Golden Age relationships, involves many layers of agreement between your limited ego mind (which is programmed by your past), your heart (which is sustaining your original encoding from Source), and your soul which is the individualized expression of the Essential Self you now have the potential of sharing much more consciously with all of life.

Though we speak of there being no need of another to experience the joys of love, we certainly support the tremendous pleasures that come naturally when you are sharing your love Presence to Presence. In that sharing there is freedom, ecstasy and the joy of simply being together with no pre-conceived needs or agendas. The root of both fear and sorrow is the attachment to one's desires, yet we refer here only to desires that are designed to manipulate others to get your needs met. In a Golden Age, your heart-oriented desires will be manifested from and with your Presence.

This expansion in your awareness is happening in increments so you can assimilate it as a natural part of your everyday life. As you move into more of your unlimited Self, you will feel the naturalness of being present without even having to know what is going on. Your thoughts, feelings and life stories are what make up the collective consciousness of humanity. That consciousness is part of a vast crystalline library that is continually circulating its information throughout the minds and hearts of humanity. As you awaken within the unlimited consciousness of your Presence, you will naturally rise into the pre-separation levels of the collective and it is there that you can use the love in your heart to open up the possibilities for others to experience their own original, pre-separation encoding from Source.

As your mind accepts the greater embodiment of your Presence, any leftover patterns from childhood or your previous relationship dynamics can all be transformed through the unconditional love that will be firmly established within your fully opened Heart. Your time for moving into relationships without the encumbrances of any past conditioning is fast approaching as living in the Oneness is your true abundance and the true inheritance of every soul.

Paradise is already here within your shared hearts and it will become the recognizable estate of your whole world in the new Golden Age of Freedom. All relationships will be reflecting your unique capacities to experience union as part of your everyday lives and those lives will not be limited or conditioned by what has happened in the past. You will embrace your mind, heart and body as the servants of your own Presence and your physical expression can then be used to feel, see, hear and make love way beyond the conditional levels of your consciousness.
